REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMITTEE

1. The Chairman of the Joint Committee to which the Bill* to provide for the administration of the Union territory of Delhi and for matters connected therewith was referred, having been authorised to submit the report on their behalf, present their Report, with the Bill as amended by the Committee, annexed thereto.

2. The Bill was introduced in Lok Sabha on the 18th November, 1965. The motion for reference of the Bill to a Joint Committee of the Houses was moved in Lok Sabha by Shri Gulzarilal Nanda, the Minister of Home Affairs, on the 30th November, 1965 and was discussed on the 30th November and 7th December, 1965 and adopted on the 7th December, 1965.

3. Rajya Sabha discussed the said motion on the 10th and 11th December, 1965 and concurred therein on the 11th December, 1965.

4. The message from Rajya Sabha was published in the Lok Sabha Bulletin, Part II, dated the 13th December, 1965.

5. The Committee held nine sittings in all.

6. The first sitting of the Committee was held on the 13th December, 1965, to draw up a programme of work. The Committee, at this sitting, decided to hear evidence of associations, public bodies and individuals desirous of presenting their suggestions or views before the Committee and to issue a press communique inviting memoranda for the purpose by the 25th December, 1965.

7. Twenty-nine memoranda/representations/resolutions on the Bill were received by the Committee from different associations, individuals.

8. At their second, fourth and sixth sittings held on the 31st December, 1965 and the 3rd January and the 19th February, 1966, respectively, the Committee heard the evidence given by 15 associations/individuals.

9. The Committee have decided that the evidence given before them should be printed and laid on the Tables of both the Houses in extenso.

*Published in the Gazette of India, Extraordinary, Part II, Section 2, dated the 18th November, 1965.

10. The report of the Committee was to be presented by the first day of the Fourteenth Session. As this could not be done, the Committee, at their fifth sitting held on the 22nd January, 1966, decided to ask for extension of time for the presentation of their report upto the 21st March, 1966. Necessary motion was brought before the House and adopted on the 15th February, 1966. At their seventh sitting held on the 11th March, 1966, the Committee decided to ask for further extension of time upto the first day of the Fifteenth Session, which was granted by the House on the 18th March, 1966.

11. The Committee considered the Bill clause-by-clause at their eighth sitting held on the 18th April, 1966.

12. The Committee considered, and adopted, their Report on the 3rd May, 1966.

13. The observations of the Committee with regard to the principal changes proposed in the Bill are detailed in the succeeding paragraphs.

14. Clause 1 and enacting formula.—The amendments are of a consequential nature.

15. Clause 2.—The boundaries of New Delhi are already described in the First Schedule to the Delhi Municipal Corporation Act, 1957. The Committee, therefore, feel that it is not necessary to empower the Central Government to specify the area of New Delhi by a notification in the Official Gazette.

The clause has been amended accordingly.

16. Clause 3.—The Committee are of the view that the number of seats in the Metropolitan Council to be filled by persons chosen by direct election from territorial constituencies should be raised from forty-two to forty-nine.

The clause has been amended accordingly.

17. Clause 4.—The Committee are of the view that in the task of delimiting constituencies for the purpose of elections to the Metropolitan Council and of specifying constituencies in which seats should be reserved for scheduled castes, the Election Commission should associate with itself all the members of Lok Sabha representing Delhi. It should not be left to the Central Government to nominate any three members of the Interim Metropolitan Council for this purpose.

The amendment made in the clause achieves this object.

18. Clause 12.—The clause has been redrafted to provide for, besides the Chairman, a Deputy Chairman of the Metropolitan Council.

19. Clause 13.—The amendments are of a consequential and drafting nature.

20. Clause 14.—The Clause has been amended to provide that the Administrator may require the attendance of members for the purpose of attending and addressing a meeting of the Metropolitan Council.

21. New Clause 15.—This clause has been added to specifically provide that every member of the Executive Council shall have the right to speak in, and otherwise to take part in the proceedings of, the Metropolitan Council, and any Committee thereof, of which he may be named a member.

22. Clause 20 (Original clause 19).—Sub-clause (3) has been added to make the provisions regarding powers and privileges applicable to persons who have the right to speak in, and otherwise to take part in the proceedings of, the Metropolitan Council or any Committee thereof as they apply in relation to members.

23. Clause 24 (Original clause 23).—The Committee are of the view that the Administrator should consult the Chairman of the Metropolitan Council before making rules with the approval of the President, for prohibiting discussion of, or regulating the asking of questions on, any matter which affects the discharge of his functions in so far as he is required to act in his discretion or to exercise judicial or a quasi-judicial function.

The clause has been amended accordingly.

24. (Original clause 24).—The Committee are of the opinion that the question of language or languages to be used in the Metropolitan Council should be left to be determined by the Metropolitan Council itself. It need not be provided by this statute.

The clause has therefore been omitted.

25. Clause 27.—The Committee are of the view that the members of the Executive Council should be designated as Executive Councillors and one of them as the Chief Executive Councillor.

The Clause has been amended accordingly.

26. Clause 32.—The Committee are of the view that until the next general election for the Delhi Municipal Corporation is held.

membership of that Corporation should not preclude a person from being also a member of the Interim Metropolitan Council.

A proviso has been added to the Clause accordingly.

27. Clause 35.—The amendment is of a consequential nature.

28. New Clause 36.—This clause has been added to provide for representation of the Metropolitan Council on the Delhi Development Authority in lieu of the representation of the Advisory Committee in respect of the Union territory of Delhi on that Authority.

29. Clause 38 (Original clause 37).—The Committee feel that the orders made by the President under this clause should be laid before each House of Parliament and they should be subject to modification, if any, by Parliament.

Necessary provision has been made for this purpose by adding new sub-clause (2).

30. The Committee recommend that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

MINUTES OF DISSENT

I

I regret that I could not persuade my colleagues in the Joint Committee and bring them round to my views. I am, therefore, constrained to append the following note of dissent which I feel expresses the views of the public at large.

2. The main purpose of the Bill should have been to provide for a unified and co-ordinated democratic set-up in Delhi. The multiplicity of authority is the greatest bane of this metropolitan city.

Some Ministers of the Government of India are at present directly functioning in Delhi without any coordination between them, with some statutory bodies working in their own orbits.

I am sorry to state that this multiplicity of authority will continue even with the passing of the present Bill. The Delhi Municipal Corporation, for example, will have more effective budgetary power than the Metropolitan Council.

3. Even after a lapse of several years and protracted talks with the top leaders, the Government had brought forward this Bill which fails completely to satisfy the aspirations of the people of Delhi. As regards the subjects falling under the State List, this enactment virtually gives no control over them. It envisages the most hated type of beaucroatic way of dealing with the public affairs. For example, clause 22 (original clause 21) is the most important clause in the Bill. The Metropolitan Council is a directly elected body but has only an advisory or recommendatory capacity. This clause has turned the Metropolitan Council into a mere debating society. Even the arrangements as envisaged in the Bill are far from satisfactory. As the things stand, there will not be cohesion between the Metropolitan Council and the Executive Councillors. This may result in confusion being worse confounded and will enhance the already prevalent inefficiency in the administration to the detriment of the public.

4. Further, the Metropolitan Council should have financial powers to decide finally its own budget, which the present Bill does not provide for. The Metropolitan Council must have full powers of deliberation and final decision including financial powers such as to raise taxes and to pass their own budget. According to clause 22

(original clause 21), in regard to the estimated receipts and expenditure of Delhi which are to be credited to, or is to be met from, the Consolidated Fund, the Metropolitan Council has got the right only to discuss and make recommendations. This has thus turned the Metropolitan Council into a mere consultative committee making only suggestions and recommendations. These may be accepted or may not be accepted by the Executive Council. In my view, the Metropolitan Council must have power to take decisions and pass resolutions which will be final and which must be acceptable to the Executive Council.

5. Then again, the creation of Executive Council under this Bill is making a mockery of democracy (See clauses 27 and 28). All the members of the Executive Council shall be appointed by the President. In my opinion, if the Government really wanted to give more democratic rights to the public it should have accepted my proposal that the leader of the majority party in the Metropolitan Council should be the Chief Executive Councillor and the Executive Council should be collectively responsible to the Metropolitan Council. Now, according to the present Bill, the Executive Council and the Metropolitan Council will be two separate bodies with no constitutional provision for their harmonious functioning.

The Metropolitan Council and the Executive Council will become additional financial burden on the people of Delhi without solving their problems and satisfying their long-standing demands. This Executive Council will be another beaurocratic Raj created by this Bill.

6. The total number of seats in the Metropolitan Council to be filled up by direct election will be 49. In my view, it should be 56. If the number of elected members is kept at 49, then out of these 49 members, 43 would be from the Corporation area. If the Corporation and Metropolitan Council elections are going to be held simultaneously, then the number of the Corporation Wards would have to be either 86 or 129. But, according to the Delhi Municipal Corporation Act, a Ward for the purpose of Corporation election, shall be of not more than 20 thousand population and the total number of Wards shall not be more than 100.

So, either the Corporation and Metropolitan Council elections should be held at different times or the Delhi Municipal Corporation Act should be amended or the number of seats in the Metropolitan Council to be filled by direct election should be 56 in order to keep up the ratio. If the Delhi Municipal Corporation Act is to be amended and the delimitation suspended till then, it would mean delay, which is not desirable.

7. About the language also, the Joint Committee in their majority report have avoided the question of language by deleting the relevant clause. I insist that the original clause 24 may be kept in the following manner: The business in the Metropolitan Council shall be transacted only in Hindi.

8. To conclude, I have dealt with the main issues involved in the Bill. There are so many flaws which I have not mentioned in my note. Even now I have great apprehensions about the efficacy of the arrangements made in the Bill to achieve the desired object of the unified and good administration in Delhi and of providing for a larger measure of association of the representation of the people in Delhi.

NEW DELHI;

Dated the 3rd May, 1966

R. V. BADE.

II

We see no reason whatsoever for denying Delhi a democratically elected and fully representative legislature and a Council of Ministers. All the arguments put forward against this appear to us as totally unconvincing. Delhi out of all Union Territories has the largest population and should not be discriminated against in the matter of democratic rights of governance. Even the rights given to other Union Territories are being denied to the people of Delhi. We therefore totally oppose this move.

2. The set-up envisaged in the proposed Metropolitan Council gives it no powers other than that of an advisory nature and therefore reduces it to nothing more than a debating society. All executive authority vests in a completely nominated body—the Executive Council. The Metropolitan Council has no status other than that of making recommendations. We have therefore suggested an amendment that the recommendations of the Metropolitan Council shall have mandatory effect and shall be executed by the Executive Council, the Administrator or the Central Government as the case may be.

In order to make the Executive Council and the Administrator feel responsible to the Metropolitan Council for their actions, we suggest that the President shall remove from office any Executive Councillor against whom the Metropolitan Council passes a vote of no-confidence by a two-third majority.

3. Further, the Metropolitan Council is another additional authority tagged on to the plethora of bodies which already exist and which have added to complete confusion in the development and life of the city. Instead of envisaging elimination of the multiplicity, of authorities, it just does the opposite and therefore does not even lay the basis of a sound administrative set-up capable of cutting down delay and red tape and of solving quickly and efficiently the multifarious problems which the people of Delhi have been facing for so long.

4. We are also of the opinion that the number of elected members of the Council should be increased to 56 since the proposed 49 will lead to a great deal of technical difficulty with regard to simultaneous voting to be held for elections to the Delhi Municipal Corporation (where the number of seats on the basis of population as by statute laid down was not to exceed 100), the Metropolitan Council and the Lok Sabha. The constituencies set up for these three bodies must be easily divisible. Since on the basis of population Delhi Municipal Corporation has already reached the maximum figure of 100 seats, the number of seats to the Metropolitan Council has to be made divisible by two only. That will make 50 seats for the Metropolitan Council in respect of the Corporation area and adding to it another six seats on the basis of population for New Delhi and Cantonment area it would make a total of 56 seats for the Metropolitan Council. This would mean, 8 Metropolitan Council seats would make up the constituency of one Lok Sabha seat.

5. In order to make the Metropolitan Council not only a representative body but also an active one, we propose that the Administrator should call the Metropolitan Council not at an interval of six months but three months.

6. We also propose that when a vacancy occurs in the chairmanship of the Metropolitan Council, it shall not be left vacant for an undetermined period and suggest that the election must take place not later than a month after the vacancy has taken place.

RENU CHAKRAVARTTY
M. N. GOVINDAN NAIR.

III

The principle as well as practice of nomination by the Executive to a legislative or quasi-legislative body is antithetical to the spirit and true pattern of Parliamentary democracy. If, however, it is permitted in certain exceptional circumstances, statutory curbs or limitations should be imposed on the exercise of such power to nominate, as in the present case, by the Central Government. The misuse of such power for partisan or ulterior ends must be prevented so as to foster the growth of a healthy democratic tradition. The professions, or minority communities or special interests which the persons nominated on the Metropolitan Council are intended to represent, should be clearly specified in the Bill. Clause 3, as it stands, however, is tantamount to a carte blanche to the Executive and is therefore pernicious. Moreover the number should be reduced to the barest minimum, approximating to zero.

2. The proposed irremovable Executive Council is liable to become an irresponsible and unresponsive Council. Considering that under the Constitution even the President can be impeached, and Judges of the Supreme Court and High Courts are removable by a special procedure prescribed in the Constitution, it will be anomalous, to say the least, if the Executive Councillors appointed by the President are removable only at his pleasure, rather displeasure. The advisability of providing, therefore, that an Executive Councillor could be removed from office if a motion for his removal is adopted by a special, if not a simple, majority of the members of the Metropolitan Council, and a petition to that effect is submitted to the President, should be seriously considered.

3. In view of the fact that Delhi is the federal capital of the Indian Union, and is fast emerging as one of the great cosmopolitan, international cities of the world, a virtual repetition of the earlier unhappy experiment of a separate Legislative Assembly and Council of Ministers for the Union territory was considered neither appropriate nor desirable by the Joint Committee, and rightly so. Nor was the acceptance of the demand for vesting adequate budgetary and financial powers in the Metropolitan Council feasible without a suitable amendment of the Constitution, and therefore beyond the scope of this Bill. The powers of the Metropolitan Council being thus truncated and abbreviated, I am strongly of the opinion that a convention should be firmly established whereby any measure affecting Delhi would not be introduced in Parliament unless it has been approved by an Advisory Committee which must include all members representing the Union territory in the two Houses of Parliament. I may even suggest that a separate Deputy Minister may be put in charge of Delhi affairs, while the Minister of Home Affairs and the Union Council of Ministers will continue to exercise overall authority and control.

4. I trust that with the modifications suggested above, the Bill will become acceptable even to those members of the Joint Committee who took the somewhat unusual step of resigning from the Committee at a very late stage, when the Committee had almost come to the end of its labours. We must so strive that the Metropolitan Council will develop into a genuine democratic institution.
